The President's Corner

Steve Simpson

Thank you for the strong attendance at our first monthly meeting in October. We reviewed thermal storage system design and energy analysis. It continues to be a viable solution to new and existing systems, and energy costs remain a factor in making the system a future consideration in many applications and locations.

Our next meeting will be at the Crowne Plaza on Tuesday November 10th from 11:30 to 1:00. I am pleased to welcome one of four of ASHRAE's newest Distinguished Lecturers, Jim Vallort. Jim will present "Intelligent Buildings – How Technology is Changing What is Possible in the Built Environment". Additional information on Jim is on the front page of ASHRAE's October Insights insert.

At our November meeting, we will also be presenting Miami University Mechanical Engineering Student, Zeb Pontius, with a one-year $5,000 scholarship. He was selected this year at the 2015 ASHRAE Winter Conference based on his outstanding scholastic and leadership abilities, character, and hopeful potential future service to the HVAC&R profession!

Please plan to attend and RSVP at the attached event brite invitation <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/ashrae-november-luncheon-tickets-19321847165> or email the standard form to Laura Kamphaus at laurakamphaus@zoomtown.com

We have many attending this week's YEA and Membership promotion night on Wednesday November 4th at The Banks. I appreciate everyone's involvement.

Lastly, we are pleased to add Pete Rasche to the Cincinnati Board of Governors. Currently, Pete is getting up to speed on the internal workings of the board and in the future he'll share in the responsibility that we on the local board take on to provide solid and interesting topics to our local membership. Thank you, Pete, for your time and energy.
